

Dog and Cat Insurance

Information and facts before purchasing, June 2025

This is a summary of what our Dog and Cat Insurance covers. The insurance also contains important limitations and safety regulations. These are shown under the heading "Important limitations and safety regulations in the Dog and Cat Insurance". You are entitled to receive this information before you purchase the insurance policy. It is therefore important that you read this information together with the quote so that you clearly understand what the policy covers. We recommend that you keep this document. For the full terms and conditions, please visit our website at if.se. You can also obtain them by contacting our Customer Service department. Claims are always paid in accordance with the full terms and conditions of the policy.

Who is insured under the policy?

The insurance is valid for you as the policyholder and owner of the insured dog or cat. The insurance may also cover the one who is a feed host. If the animal is a female dog or female cat, the insurance is also valid to a certain extent for the animal's puppies or kittens if you still own them. Starting on day 1 and through day 119, the puppy(ies)/kitten(s) are covered by the veterinary care protection and as of day 35 through day 119, the life insurance policy also applies.

Where does the policy provide cover?

The policy applies within the Nordic region. It also applies if your animal is temporarily staying in another European country for at most 1 year, provided that, according to what has been stipulated by the Swedish Board of Agriculture, your animal may be transported between the countries without needing to be put into quarantine. For longer stays, you must inform If in advance and obtain approval.

When can the animal be insured?

You may insure your dog or cat as soon as it has turned five weeks old and no later than the animal has turned 7 years old (for dogs) or 10 years old (for cats).

How long is the insurance valid?

The insurance is valid as of the date specified in the insurance policy. Veterinary care insurance can be in place for the entirety of the animal's life but the life insurance policy expires when the animal is 10 years old (for dogs) and 12 years old (for cats). The life amount is reduced annually by 20% when the animal turns seven years old. The amount will be a minimum of SEK 6,000, unless a lower amount has been agreed at the time you insured the animal.

What is insured under the policy?

Important limitations and safety regulations in the Dog and Cat Insurance

The insurance policy contains certain limitations. There are terms and conditions which mean that the insurance does not provide cover in certain situations and there are terms and conditions on safety regulations, in other words, instructions explaining what to do in order to minimise the risk of loss, damage and injury. Failure to observe the safety regulations may result in your compensation being reduced. For more information about which safety regulations apply for each claim, please refer to the full terms and conditions at www.if.se. Some of the main limitations/regulations in the insurance are listed below.

General limitations:

PRE-EXISTING ILLNESS OR INJURY

The insurance is not valid for symptoms, illnesses or injuries that existed (pre-existed) prior to when the insurance entered into force regardless of when the illness or injury was first noticed. This also applies if a change is made, at the request of the policyholder, to the scope of the insurance cover.

COMPLICATIONS

The insurance is not valid for complications from an injury or illness, examination or treatment that is not covered by the insurance, other than for acute complication to normal surgical castration and vaccinations.

WAITING (QUALIFYING) PERIOD

During the first 20 days starting on the inception date, the insurance is only valid for injuries caused by external force. If the premium is not paid on time, day 1 of the waiting period will be the payment date. For a Swedish-born puppy/kitten that is insured before it is 120 days old, the insurance is valid without a waiting period if the insurance is purchased within 10 days of the purchase date and a purchase contract can be provided as proof. There must also be a veterinary certificate without remark. The certificate must not be older than seven days at the time of purchase/delivery.

For a Swedish-born puppy/kitten which is kept from your own litter, the insurance is valid without a waiting period if the puppy/kitten is insured by If before the animal is 120 days old and you obtain a veterinary certificate without remark. The certificate must not be older than seven days when the insurance in If starts to apply. If, however, you purchase insurance between the time the puppy has reached the age of five weeks and the age of eight weeks, the insurance applies without a waiting period, even if you do not have a veterinary certificate.

If, however, you purchase insurance between the time the kitten has reached the age of five weeks and the age of fourteen weeks, the insurance applies without a waiting period, even if you do not have a veterinary certificate.

RESERVATIONS/EXEMPTIONS

If there are special terms stated in the insurance policy that are exemptions or reservations for certain defects (injuries, illnesses or symptoms of illness), the insurance will not apply for those defects.

IMPORTED DOGS OR CATS

The insurance is not valid for illness caused by parasites or illnesses caused by an infection that the dog or cat already had at the time when it was imported to Sweden. Also, it is not valid for consequences of these illnesses or related diseases.

Specific limitations:

LIMITATIONS THAT APPLY FOR SPECIFIC BREEDS

For the dog breed Shar Pei, or a mixed breed where one of the parent dogs is a Shar Pei, this insurance is not valid for any ear, eye or skin problems and neither does it cover Shar Pei fever.

The insurance does not apply for illnesses or defects of the airways, lungs, nose or palate for the following breeds: Pug, Boston Terrier, French and English Bulldog, Shih Tzu and Pekingese and the cat breeds siamese or exotic (or when either of the parents is one of those breeds). Neither does the insurance apply for injuries or illnesses on or in the eyes for these breeds.

For the Chihuahua, Boston Terrier, French and English Bulldog breeds and mixed breeds (where either of the parents are one of these breeds) the insurance does not apply to birth complications, caesarean sections or complications after caesarean section. One exception however is if the mother has had one or more litters previously, all of which were a normal birth.

For the cat breed Scottish Fold and mixed breeds (where either of the parents is of the breed Scottish Fold), the insurance does not cover joint diseases. Neither does it cover conditions resulting from such defects or related defects.

JOINT DISEASES AND BREEDS WITH HEALTH PROGRAMMES

For hip dysplasia (HD), elbow dysplasia (OCD, FCP, UAP and UME) and osteochondrosis of the shoulder joint and patellar dislocation and short ulna syndrome the insurance is only valid for dogs that are insured before they are four months old and where they are thereafter insured without any interruption. For dogs belonging to a breed that has a health programme, both of the parents must be free of the disorder described in the breed's health programme and the matter must be both reviewed and registered by the Swedish Kennel Club (SKK). For mixed breeds, the parents belonging to such breeds must be free of such disorders or there must be X-ray proof ("friröntgad" in Swedish).

LIFE INSURANCE

The insurance is not valid for temperament or behavioural disorders, cryptorchidism (undescended testicle) or other undescended testicle illnesses. Care due to dental or bite problems that is not directly related to an accident is not covered.

VETERINARY CARE

The insurance is not valid for delivery complications or caesarean section with a delivery that occurs during the first 60 days of the insurance. The insurance does not apply for veterinary care to address temperament or behavioural disorders or nymphomania. Neither is the insurance valid for operations or other treatment of congenital defects such as umbilical hernia or vaccination or other preventive treatments.

The dental disease TR (FORL) for cats must be confirmed by an X-ray and is only reimbursed if symptoms occur after a waiting period of 12 months from the inception date of the insurance policy. A requirement for the insurance to apply is that the cat has been symptom free throughout the waiting period. If the cat suffers from symptoms of the dental disease TR (FORL) during the waiting period, an exemption will be applied to the insurance. The waiting period is not applied to cats up to 2 years of age. Tooth resorption TR (FORL) does not apply to dogs.

USABILITY

The insurance is not valid if the loss occurs after the dog or cat has turned 8 years old (for loss of reproductive ability or racing ability, the age limit is 6 years old), if reimbursement is paid from the life insurance or if there are problems requiring that the animal is withdrawn from breeding.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE – VETERINARY CARE

The insurance is valid for sudden or external events impacting the animal's physical condition. Reimbursement will not be made for the costs of examination or extraordinary costs that are not medically justified. Neither is reimbursement made for the costs of an autopsy, euthanization and removal, travel, transport and boarding or medications (prescribed or issued). The insurance does not cover patellar luxation or cruciate ligament injury.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE – LIFE INSURANCE

The insurance is valid for sudden or external events impacting the animal's physical condition. The insurance expires at the end of the insurance period in the calendar year when the animal turns 10 years old (for dogs) and 12 years old (for cats).

BOARDING OF DOG OR CAT

The insurance does not apply in the case of illness/injury for which you have had symptoms before the insurance began to apply or in the case of illness/injury that is related to the abuse of alcohol, narcotics or drugs.

Disclosure of medical records

In cases where If needs to consult the animal's medical records in order to settle the insurance claim, If has the right to obtain these from veterinary clinics/ animal hospitals and the Swedish Board of Agriculture.

Deductible

For veterinary care insurance, you must pay a portion of the insurance claim yourself, which is called a deductible. The price of the insurance will be lower if you choose a higher deductible. The fixed deductible is deducted once per 'deductible period' and the percentage is deducted from the remaining compensable sum. For dogs, you may choose between a fixed deductible of SEK 1,500, SEK 1,900 or SEK 2,700 plus a variable deductible of 15% or 25%. For cats, you can choose between a fixed deductible of SEK 1,500 or SEK 1,900 plus a variable deductible of 15% or 25%.
